Back Office & Head Office

Smarter systems for fuel retail businesses

Tokheim Konnect is our integrated, web-based back office and head office solution for petrol and convenience retailers. It provides a universal software platform for managing state-of-the-art petrol filling station operations.

The solution is built from the ground up on a data model specifically designed to facilitate effective head office management and reporting while providing a functional, robust and easy-to-use back office system for station managers.

The solution can be hosted by the customer or by Tokheim and is comprised of a number of distinct modules to ensure straightforward deployment and a competitive total cost of ownership proposition.

“Tokheim Konnect is built on Microsoft’s latest generation of technology platforms including ASP.NET and SQL Server. It offers a high standard of station management functionality combined with a modern user interface, easy data output to standard file formats, and a future-proof technology roadmap.”
